

Sullivan Law & Associates Named Law Firm of the Month

We Have Been Featured on the Cover of the Orange County Attorney Journal

Sullivan Law & Associates has been recognized as the Law Firm of the Month by the Orange County Attorney Journal. We have been featured on the cover of this month's print edition, and our successful strategy for managing referrals is highlighted in an article therein.

As mentioned in the article, much of our success as an Irvine family law firm is due to our skillful, hands-on approach to referrals we receive from other professionals. We have made a name for ourselves as one of Orange County's most trusted family law groups and often receive referrals from other attorneys and law firms as a result. All our staff members are trained to treat referrals with empathy, honesty, and special attention, and many clients who come to our firm through referrals speak highly of the level of customer service they receive while working with Sullivan Law & Associates.

This is in large part because we help instill confidence and realistic expectations in all our referred clients. It is our mission to make sure every referred client feels secure in our care and assured of our ability to skillfully handle their case. We also aim to make sure each client is well-acquainted with the options available to them and our goals while working to address their challenges. We are pleased that this approach has earned us the high honor of being named Law Firm of the Month.
